ATTORNEY, MAY FILE FOR GOVERNOR

BOTH HE AND SHIPSTEAD WERE ENDORSED FOR THEIR OF-FICES AT CONVENTION

Minneapolis, April 27. — (UP) — Following the filing of United States Senator Henrik Shipstead for reelection on the farmer-labor ticket, Minnesota political affairs will be considerably clarified today when Floyd B. Olson, Minneapolis attorney, announces whether or not he will accept the third party endorsement as candidate for governor.

Both Senator Shipstead and Mr. Olson were endorsed for their offices at the farmer-labor state convention March 27 but for the past month have declined to announce if the nominations will be accepted. Their refusal to announce their political plans gave rise to rumors that one or both intend to file on the republican ticket.

Senator Shipstead stated in Washington Thursday that he will seek reelection on the farmer-labor slate and that his papers mailed today should reach the state Saturday.

Rumors that Olson and Shipstead would head an independent ticket were spiked Thursday with a statement from Olson that "Senator Shipstead's plans have no bearing on what I shall do." This statement was followed by the announcement that he would give his refusal or acceptance of the endorsement today.

FINDS PINT BOTTLE
OF BEER BURIED
SINCE YEAR 1898

Grand Forks, N. D., April 27. — (UP) — What to do with a pint bottle of beer, believed buried since 1898, and which was unearthed late yesterday on the site of the old Jacob Dobmeier brewery, is puzzling Henry O. Gorman, the discoverer.

If Henry drinks it he will violate the law. To destroy it is waste. To give it away—possibly to a museum—that is considered the best bet.

The bottle was in good condition. As to the contents, an examination has not yet been made.

INTERNATIONAL HOMAGE TO THE DEAD AND TO THE LIVING

Washington, April 27. — The body of Floyd Bennett, sacrificed to the code of air comradeship, reached here from Quebec at 3:20 P. M. today.

In heavy rain, hundreds at the station and other hundreds along the thoroughfares to Arlington National Cemetery, stood with bowed heads to pay their silent honor to Bennett, who after flying his Ford plane from Detroit to Lake St. Agnes, Que., contracted pneumonia which resulted fatally.

The navy he had served as a humble "warrant officer" lifted its regulations that he might be buried with officer dead on the Virginia hills across the river from Washington.

In a flag-draped casket, Bennett's body was brought to the national capital for burial among the hero dead of Arlington Cemetery, overlooking the Potomac river.

Meantime, the German-Irish fliers of the Bremen, in aid of whom Bennett contracted his fatal illness, broke their air journey from Canada to this country at Curtis Field, New York, and determined at the last moment to defer their programed homage to the man who sacrificed himself to free them from icy Greenland.

The German-Irish crew will arrive tonight and tomorrow visit his grave to say the "Gruesse" they had intended to give him, alive, at Greenland.

Washington, April 27. — (UP) — The nation's capital prepared today to bury its down dead aviation hero, Floyd Bennett, and extend a welcome, no less enthusiastic because it will be tinged with sorrow, to the German and Irish crew of the airplane Bremen.

Officials of other countries planned to assist in this international homage to the dead—and to the living.

Two delegations of men high in government and international affairs were ready for this tactful double welcome. One was to gather at Union station and receive the body of Bennett, brought from Quebec, where he died. This group included troops.

The other delegation was to wait at Bolling Field for the men of the Bremen, piloted here from Lake St. Agnes, Quebec, in a non-stop flight by Bernt Balchen, old comrade of the polar flier Bennett. Among the welcome was expected to be Irish Minister Smiddy and German Ambassador Von Prittwitz.

Both groups were to make their way to Arlington National Cemetery in the hills of Virginia across the Potomac, and there lay Bennett at rest close to the stone globe that marks the grave of the first Pole discoverer, Robert Peary.

New York, April 27. — New York paid an impressive tribute to the memory of Floyd Bennett today.

The train bearing the valiant aviator's body arrived at Grand Central station from Quebec at 7:30 A. M. and was met by a large crowd of mourners.

The body of the man who died of pneumonia in a Quebec hospital after a daring flight into the northlands to aid the stranded trans-Atlantic fliers, was placed on a military gun carriage to head a procession to the 71st regiment armory, where it is to lay in state.

LATTER IN DIRIGIBLE TO MAKE
FLIGHT OVER NORTH POLE
IN NEAR FUTURE

Stolp, Germany, April 27. — (UP) — Three Arctic adventurers — Capt. George Wilkins, Carl Eielson and Umberto Nobile — may meet at the far northlands outpost of Spitzbergen next week, it was learned today.

It was learned here that Nobile, who shortly is to make a flight over the North Pole in the dirigible Italia may start from Stolp Sunday for Spitzbergen. That will be the base for Nobile's polar exploration trip.

Eielson and Wilkins, who recently flew over the polar regions from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Spitzbergen, at present are at Green Harbor, Spitzbergen.

They have not decided when they will leave Green Harbor although there were early reports they would fly out in the airplane in which they made their voyage over the top of the world. It was considered improbable that they would leave before Nobile's arrival.

Nobile will leave Sunday, provided the weather is satisfactory, it was learned. Recently he flew here from Milan and since has been the guest of the German government.

2 LADS KILLED

IN REFORMATORY FOR THE CRIME

Van Buren, Mo., April 27. — (UP) — Leslie and Lee Seese, brothers, 11 and 14 years old respectively, did not like the companionship of Orville Haldebrand, 19, on their squirrel hunting trip.

Since Orville cared little for their taste and continued to hunt with the brothers, they shot and killed their young playmate, it was testified by state's witnesses here in the trial of the two youths on second degree murder charges.

Today the two brothers were under sentence of 10 years in the reformatory for killing young Haldebrand. After long deliberation, a jury brought in a verdict of guilty yesterday and recommended a sentence of 10 years in prison.

This was changed by the judge to the reformatory term and it was expected the youths would start serving their time today or tomorrow.

REFUEL PLANE

JUST 2 WEEKS AGO AIR ADVEN-TURERS FORCED DOWN ON GREENLY ISLAND

7 PEOPLE IN PLANE WHICH IS
PILOTED BY BERNT
BALCHEN

Curtiss Field, L. I., April 27. — (UP) — The Bremen relief plane landed here at 1:51 P. M. today en route to Washington from Murray Bay, Que.

Two weeks from the day they were forced down on Greenly Island after completing the first flight across the North Atlantic in an airplane, the crew of the monoplane Bremen reached their original goal.

They did not stop long, however, and they were not flying in the sturdy Junkers plane which had carried them across the ocean. Their long imprisonment on Greenly Island, the death of Floyd Bennett, valiant American, as a result of trying to rescue them, had changed all their plans. After refueling they planned to leave for Washington.

A police automobile forced its way through the crowd and all passengers on the plane were placed in it. Capt. Koehl and Huenefeld wore dark blue uniforms and Major Jas. Fitzmaurice was dressed in corduroy breeches and red coat.

The police car made its way slowly through the crowd to the Junkers hangar into which it was driven. The hangar doors were closed and no one was allowed to enter.

Curtiss Field, L. I., April 27. — The crew of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen will continue their trip to Washington by train, Miss Herta Junkers announced today after she and the German-Irish fliers had landed here from Murray Bay.

The Ford relief plane which came down from the north landed unexpectedly at Curtiss Field at 1:51 P. M.

Miss Junkers said it would be impossible to continue the trip by plane because of the bad weather.

"All arrangements have been made and we are ready to leave at once," said Miss Junkers.

It rained hard at Curtiss Field and Major John Reynolds, commander of Mitchell Field, said poor visibility prevailed along the entire air route between here and Washington.

The fliers had hoped to arrive in the capital in time for the Floyd Bennett funeral, scheduled for 5 P. M.

MARINES IN FORCED MARCHES
AFTER SANDINO

TO MAKE EFFORT TO BLOCK RE-TREAT OF HIS REBEL
ARMY

SCOUTING PLANES SO FAR HAVE SPOTTED NONE OF THE REBELS

Managua, Nicaragua, April 27. — (UP) — Large detachments of United States marines were reported to be advancing today in forced marches on the Pis Pis mining district in an effort to block retreat of General Augustino Sandino's rebel army.

No announcements have been made of the marine advance at base headquarters here but it is believed generally that efforts were being made to place marines in strategic positions to block any escape of the Sandinistas.

Raid by the Sandino army on the Pis Pis mining area, which resulted in occupation of several mines and capture of George R. Marshall of New York, have resulted in intensive marine activity.

The big observation planes that have been held at the base here have been particularly active.

The fact that none of the scouting planes reported sighting Sandino or any of his followers led to the belief the wily general may have withdrawn from the Pis Pis area. This, however, did not deter the marine march on the district.

DEATH TOLL SINCE TORRENTIAL RAINS STARTED IN-CREASES TO 7

Atlanta, Ga., April 27. — (UP) — Predicted rains in flood swept areas of Alabama, Georgia and Florida threatened today to increase peril of high waters and delay efforts of farmers to replant ruined crops in sections from which the flood crests have passed.

Death toll since the torrential rains sent rivers over their banks last Monday had increased today to seven, with a negro fireman the latest victim. He was killed when a freight train went through a weakened trestle near Sylvester, Ga.

Hundreds are believed suffering from exposure, while the refugee list grew, augmented by thousands of farmers and their families from Alabama counties along the path of flood waters of the Tom Bigbee.

In northwest Florida, the state board of health acted to prevent epidemics, as between 5,000 and 6,000 refugees faced a week of further absence from their homes. A negro refugee camp was established at Chipley, Fla., while white residents of Caryville, which was under ten feet of water, were cared for at Bonifay.

The trend of flood waters of the Tom Bigbee today held in grasp the fate of hundreds of homes through the Alabama lowlands it passes through to the gulf. Already farmers of Marengo, Choctaw and Sumter counties have seen the muddy waters lap over their cotton fields, with total damage believed near $1,000,000. Further rise reaching a crest Sunday or Monday is expected.

Flood waters receded in Georgia areas, where highways were out and rail communication poor.

The Tom Bigbee river continued pouring its water in increased volume past Demopolis, Ala., today with the stage registered at 55.5 feet, a rise of 1.5 feet during the past 24 hours. The previous day's rise was 1.1 feet.

The Tom Bigbee was falling with increased rapidity at Aberdeen and Columbus, Miss., above Demopolis, and the Marior was going down fast at Tuscaloosa, also above Demopolis.

Jackson, Miss., April 27. — Property damage estimated at more than $100,000 was caused by a windstorm here early today.

Trees were uprooted, store windows broken and wire communication affected by the blow.

Heavy rain and a drop in temperature followed the storm.

St. Paul, April 27. — (UP) — Trunk highways throughout the state have improved greatly during the last few days, according to the weekly condition report issued today by the Minnesota Highway department. All routes in the 7,000 mile system are passable, but some stretches still are poor and many only fair, the bulletin said.

More than half the routes, however, are listed as good.

STOP THERE JUST LONG ENOUGH TO REFUEL PLANE

JUST 2 WEEKS AGO AIR ADVENTURES FORCED DOWN ON GREENLY ISLAND

7 PEOPLE IN PLANE WHICH IS PILOTTED BY BERNT BALCHEN

Curtiss Field, L. I., April 27. — (UP) — The Bremen relief plane landed here at 1:51 P. M. today en route to Washington from Murray Bay, Que.

Two weeks from the day they were forced down on Greenly Island after completing the first flight across the North Atlantic in an airplane, the crew of the monoplane Bremen reached their original goal.

They did not stop long, however, and they were not flying in the sturdy Junkers plane which had carried them across the ocean. Their long imprisonment on Greenly Island, the death of Floyd Bennett, valiant American, as a result of trying to rescue them, had changed all their plans. After refueling they planned to leave for Washington.

A police automobile forced its way through the crowd and all passengers on the plane were placed in it. Capt. Koehl and Huenefeld wore dark blue uniforms and Major Jas. Fitzmaurice was dressed in corduroy breeches and red coat.

The police car made its way slowly through the crowd to the Junkers hangar into which it was driven. The hangar doors were closed and no one was allowed to enter.

Curtiss Field, L. I., April 27. — The crew of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen will continue their trip to Washington by train, Miss Herta Junkers announced today after she and the German-Irish fliers had landed here from Murray Bay.

The Ford relief plane which came down from the north landed unexpectedly at Curtiss Field at 1:51 P. M.

Miss Junkers said it would be impossible to continue the trip by plane because of the bad weather.

"All arrangements have been made and we are ready to leave at once," said Miss Junkers.

It rained hard at Curtiss Field and Major John Reynolds, commander of Mitchell Field, said poor visibility prevailed along the entire air route between here and Washington.

The fliers had hoped to arrive in the capital in time for the Floyd Bennett funeral, scheduled for 5 P. M.

PICKANDS, MATHER & CO. TAKE SAGAMORE

Crosby, Minn., April 27. — On Monday of this week the Sagamore mine at Riverton, owned by the John A. Savage Company, was transferred to Pickands, Mather & Co., who will now operate same, and officially took charge Thursday. Although Mr. Savage still controls a fee the operations will be made by the Pickands, Mather & Co. corporation. All the regular office men, foremen, and mechanics will continue with the new company, with the exception of Bill Savage, general superintendent, E. F. Andberg, purchasing agent, and E. W. Uhler, chief engineer, who will continue with Mr. Savage and open up offices here in Crosby in the Crosby block on Main street.

REPORTS ACCIDENT AND COLLAPSES

Minneapolis, April 27. — (UP) — The mother of 11-year-old Bertil Johnson went to police headquarters yesterday and reported that he had been struck by an automobile. She fainted.

An unidentified woman saw Mrs. Johnson collapse, and she did likewise.

The boy, knocked down by a truck, was only slightly hurt.

9 SKELETONS OF INDIANS FOUND NEAR MITCHELL

Mitchell, S. D., April 27. — (UP) — Nine skeletons of Indians were uncovered here late yesterday with the opening of Indian Mound north of here by students of the biology department of Dakota Wesleyan university. The mounds were believed to have been part of an Arickar Indian village.

Several of the skulls of the skeletons recovered showed marks of violence. The Indians had been buried in a sitting posture.

MARINES IN FORCED MARCHES AFTER SANDINO

TO MAKE EFFORT TO BLOCK RETREAT OF HIS REBEL ARMY

SCOUTING PLANES SO FAR HAVE SPOTTED NONE OF THE REBELS

Managua, Nicaragua, April 27. — (UP) — Large detachments of United States marines were reported to be advancing today in forced marches on the Pis Pis mining district in an effort to block retreat of General Augustino Sandino's rebel army.

No announcements have been made of the marine advance at base headquarters here but it is believed generally that efforts were being made to place marines in strategic positions to block any escape of the Sandinistas.

Raid by the Sandino army on the Pis Pis mining area, which resulted in occupation of several mines and capture of George R. Marshall of New York, have resulted in intensive marine activity.

The big observation planes that have been held at the base here have been particularly active.

The fact that none of the scouting planes reported sighting Sandino or any of his followers led to the belief the wily general may have withdrawn from the Pis Pis area. This, however, did not deter the marine march on the district.

ALICE BUCKMAN SITS ON SIDELINES, HURT HER HAND

Griswold, Ia., April 27. — (UP) — Alice Buckman, girl star of the Griswold high school baseball team, was forced to sit on the sidelines here yesterday because of an injured hand while her boy teammates won a 15 to 2 victory over Adair.

The red-headed girl-rightfielder is suffering from injuries to one hand sustained in a recent game. A slight infection developed and it has been necessary to lance the hand several times. She hopes to be back in the lineup for the return game with Adair Monday.

AFFECTS STATES OF ALABAMA, GEORGIA, FLORIDA

DELAY EFFORTS OF FARMERS TO REPLANT RUINED CROPS

DEATH TOLL SINCE TORRENTIAL RAINS STARTED INCREASES TO 7

Atlanta, Ga., April 27. — (UP) — Predicted rains in flood swept areas of Alabama, Georgia and Florida threatened today to increase peril of high waters and delay efforts of farmers to replant ruined crops in sections from which the flood crests have passed.

Death toll since the torrential rains sent rivers over their banks last Monday had increased today to seven, with a negro fireman the latest victim. He was killed when a freight train went through a weakened trestle near Sylvester, Ga.

Hundreds are believed suffering from exposure, while the refugee list grew, augmented by thousands of farmers and their families from Alabama counties along the path of flood waters of the Tom Bigbee.

In northwest Florida, the state board of health acted to prevent epidemics, as between 5,000 and 6,000 refugees faced a week of further absence from their homes. A negro refugee camp was established at Chipley, Fla., while white residents of Caryville, which was under ten feet of water, were cared for at Bonifay.

The trend of flood waters of the Tom Bigbee today held in grasp the fate of hundreds of homes through the Alabama lowlands it passes through to the gulf. Already farmers of Marengo, Choctaw and Sumter counties have seen the muddy waters lap over their cotton fields, with total damage believed near $1,000,000. Further rise reaching a crest Sunday or Monday is expected.

Flood waters receded in Georgia areas, where highways were out and rail communication poor.

The Tom Bigbee river continued pouring its water in increased volume past Demopolis, Ala., today with the stage registered at 55.5 feet, a rise of 1.5 feet during the past 24 hours. The previous day's rise was 1.1 feet.

The Tom Bigbee was falling with increased rapidity at Aberdeen and Columbus, Miss., above Demopolis, and the Marrior was going down fast at Tuscaloosa, also above Demopolis.

Jackson, Miss., April 27. — Property damage estimated at more than $100,000 was caused by a windstorm here early today.

Trees were uprooted, store windows broken and wire communication affected by the blow.

Heavy rain and a drop in temperature followed the storm.

MAIL TRAIN DERAILED NEAR CAPETOWN, S. A., AND 5 PEOPLE KILLED

Capetown, April 27. — (UP) — Five persons were killed and many were injured when a mail train between Johannesburg and Capetown was derailed about 120 miles from Capetown today. The derailment occurred near a river and the entire train toppled over an embankment. Several cars caught fire.

FATHER, DAUGHTER BURNED TO DEATH

Ranger, Tex., April 27. — (UP) — J. W. Osborn and his daughter Gertrude, 17, were burned to death early today when their home at Mingus, 26 miles east of here, was destroyed by fire.

Osborn carried his wife to safety and had returned to rescue his daughter when the flaming roof fell in.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OF WORKMEN APL. 26

Observed by Large Attendance of A. O. U. W. Members and Grand Lodge Officers

BANQUET SERVED

Grand Master Workman Andrew Anderson Toastmaster, Followed by Class Initiation

Thursday, April 26, 1928, will go down in annals of the Ancient Order of United Workmen as a red letter day, a day when the half century mark of the local lodge was commemorated by a brilliant banquet, after dinner speeches, and a class initiation of fifty candidates. It all was a tribute, in a way, too, to Andrew Anderson of Brainerd lodge, twice honored as head of A. O. U. W. of the state, Grand Master Workman of the state association.

At 6 p. m. the Workmen hosts gathered at the Iron Exchange building. Lou's band furnished excellent music. The banquet hall was beautifully decorated with lodge emblems, cut flowers and colors of the order. The caterers, Archer's, furnished this fine menu:

Meat Loaf Escalloped Potatoes
Hot Rolls Relishes
Head Lettuce Salad
Brick Ice Cream Gold Cakes
Coffee

The menus were printed on gold backed cards and carried the picture of the Grand Master Workman, roster of local lodge officers, etc.

The toastmaster made the opening address, followed by words of greeting from Hon. Frank E. Little, Past Master Workman of the lodge. He praised the loyalty and pride of the members and with them rejoiced in the fact that the local lodge had twice furnished Andrew Anderson as Grand Master Workman.

William J. Stevens of Duluth, Grand Foreman, spoke briefly, reading an original poem which dwelt on the felicity of the anniversary proceedings.

John Holvick gave humorous readings which drew much applause.

Mrs. Grace Gavick of Minneapolis lodge sang two beautiful soprano selections.

Judge M. C. Tift of Minneapolis, Past Grand Master Workman, member of the law committee and a director of the grand lodge, gave the address of the evening. He said he had been a Workman 33 years and they had been years in which he had seen the order grow and prosper.

"The A. O. U. W. order has never at any time stood as strong, stalwart and able to perform its duties as it has tonight," said Judge Tift. He praised its record of obligations performed, of humanitarian movements, of homes preserved. The order aids its members in sickness and distress, unites them in the bonds of fraternal friendship. Its plans are simple and effective, practical and economical, he said.

He paid his respects to Grand Master Workman Andrew Anderson and praised his qualities, radiating sunshine, disposing of lodge matters with rare tact and diplomacy and upbuilding the order in all its various phases.

Oscar Johnson of Minneapolis lodge No. 16, which latter assisted in exemplification of degree and screen work, spoke briefly.

Announcement was made that Brainerd lodge will in September or October have another large class and celebration.

The initiation of the class of 50 gathered by the organizers Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Heineman then followed. The lodge exercises were followed by a social hour. Among the oldest Workmen in point of membership, present, was William Entriokin, who served 25 years as lodge recorder.

The officers of the local lodge are: Past Master Workman — Mayor Frank E. Little.

Master Workman — Alderman Martin Anderson.

Foreman — Albert M. Nelson.

Overseer — Clarence Skillings.

Financier — Victor Peterson.

Recorder — Henry Anderson.

Manganese Resident Alleged to Have Struck Wife With Broomhandle

Mike Oreskovich, of Manganese, charged with beating his wife was committed to the insane asylum at Fergus Falls by Judge L. B. Kinder yesterday afternoon following examination by the board of examiners.

Oreskovich is said to have struck his wife over the head with a broomhandle and to have chased his wife and family out of the house on occasions. At one time, it was stated, he chased them into a neighbor's house and then chased them out of there again.

Complaining witnesses further stated that Oreskovich at certain times slept in the barn where he sang "a mixture of happy and sad songs."

Victor Johnson, general superintendent for the C. A. Smith Lumber Company of Minneapolis, was a guest in the city yesterday. Mr. Johnson landed in the city in a small skiff, having come all the way down the Mississippi, from Grand Rapids inspecting logs and looking after the interests of the Smith Company en route.

J. F. Hawkins has returned from a little jaunt up in the Iron Range country and he has many interesting things to tell of his trip. The magnitude of the iron ore industry in that country has surprised Mr. Hawkins beyond measure. He visited some of the larger mines and was very much interested in the country. He says Hibbing is one of the liveliest towns that he has visited for a number of years. Mr. Hawkins brings word from some of the old Brainerd boys and that they are all doing well and prospering.

Miss Evelyn Witherell and her pupils gave a studio musicale on Saturday evening at the home of the former on Kindred street. The affair was a delightful one musically and was heartily enjoyed by a number of invited guests.

If you are troubled with constipation, read Mrs. Hogan's letter below. It came to us unsolicited—a message of relief to every sufferer:

February 12, 1927
"I want to tell you how much good your ALL-BRAN has done me. It surely can't be beat for constipation. I have tried every kind of medicine and never in my whole life have been relieved until one of my neighbors told me to try bran. So I bought a box and read about your ALL-BRAN and thought I would see what it would do—and it surely did help me. I will never be without it in the house again."

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OF WORKMEN APL. 26

Observed by Large Attendance of A. O. U. W. Members and Grand Lodge Officers

BANQUET SERVED

Grand Master Workman Andrew Anderson Toastmaster, Followed by Class Initiation

Thursday, April 26, 1928, will go down in annals of the Ancient Order of United Workmen as a red letter day, a day when the half century mark of the local lodge was commemorated by a brilliant banquet, after dinner speeches, and a class initiation of fifty candidates. It all was a tribute, in a way, too, to Andrew Anderson of Brainerd lodge, twice honored as head of A. O. U. W. of the state, Grand Master Workman of the state association.

At 6 p. m. the Workmen hosts gathered at the Iron Exchange building. Lou's band furnished excellent music. The banquet hall was beautifully decorated with lodge emblems, cut flowers and colors of the order. The caterers, Archer's, furnished this fine menu:

Fruit Cocktail

Meat Loaf Escalloped Potatoes

Hot Rolls Relishes

Head Lettuce Salad

Brick Ice Cream Gold Cakes

Coffee

The menus were printed on gold backed cards and carried the picture of the Grand Master Workman, roster of local lodge officers, etc.

The toastmaster made the opening address, followed by words of greeting from Hon. Frank E. Little, Past Master Workman of the lodge. He praised the loyalty and pride of the members and with them rejoiced in the fact that the local lodge had twice furnished Andrew Anderson as Grand Master Workman.

William J. Stevens of Duluth, Grand Foreman, spoke briefly, reading an original poem which dwelt on the felicity of the anniversary proceedings.

John Holvick gave humorous readings which drew much applause.

Mrs. Grace Gavick of Minneapolis lodge sang two beautiful soprano selections.

Judge M. C. Tift of Minneapolis, Past Grand Master Workman, member of the law committee and a director of the grand lodge, gave the address of the evening. He said he had been a Workman 33 years and they had been years in which he had seen the order grow and prosper.

"The A. O. U. W. order has never at any time stood as strong, stalwart and able to perform its duties as it has tonight," said Judge Tift. He praised its record of obligations performed, of humanitarian movements, of homes preserved. The order aids its members in sickness and distress, unites them in the bonds of fraternal friendship. Its plans are simple and effective, practical and economical, he said.

He paid his respects to Grand Master Workman Andrew Anderson and praised his qualities, radiating sunshine, disposing of lodge matters with rare tact and diplomacy and upbuilding the order in all its various phases.

Oscar Johnson of Minneapolis lodge No. 16, which latter assisted in exemplification of degree and screen work, spoke briefly.

Announcement was made that Brainerd lodge will in September or October have another large class and celebration.

The initiation of the class of 50 gathered by the organizers Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Heineman then followed. The lodge exercises were followed by a social hour. Among the oldest Workmen in point of membership, present, was William Entriokin, who served 25 years as lodge recorder.

The officers of the local lodge are: Past Master Workman — Mayor Frank E. Little.

Master Workman — Alderman Martin Anderson.

Foreman — Albert M. Nelson.

Overseer — Clarence Skillings.

Financier — Victor Peterson.

Recorder — Henry Anderson.

Treasurer — A. J. Ellison.

Guide — William Gustafson.

Inside Watch — A. G. Lagerquist.

Outside Watch — August Hallquist.

Trustees — Mayor Frank E. Little, Oscar Hagberg and August Hallquist.

DAIRY "CO-OPS" PROSPERING

DAIRY products valued at 640 millions were sold through co-operative associations in 1927, according to a report from the division of co-operative marketing of the United States Department of Agriculture. Measured by the value of these products, New York placed first as a state, Minnesota second, Wisconsin third, Massachusetts fourth, and Iowa fifth.

Minnesota led all states in the co-operative making and marketing of butter. Wisconsin was second, Iowa third, and California fourth. Wisconsin's cheese co-operatives were first and Oregon's second. New York, of course, was first in the marketing of fluid milk.

Heavy gains in the volume of business handled were made during the year by the creameries, the milk-bargaining associations and the milk-distributing associations. One group of creameries in the Minnesota-Wisconsin dairy section reported sales for 1927 more than six millions larger than for 1926.

Seventy-five per cent of the creameries and 74 per cent of the cheese factories in Minnesota in 1927 were co-operative enterprises. Approximately 70 per cent of the creamery butter made in the state is produced in co-operative plants, which number 663 as compared with 885, the total number of creameries in the state.

STARTED AT $7.50 A WEEK

JOHN J. RASKOB, chairman of the finance committee of General Motors and one of America's leading financiers today, was earning $7.50 a week, twenty-eight years ago, as a stenographer in an up-State New York town, according to Edward Doherty in an article in this week's issue of Liberty Magazine.

Raskob had heard from a friend in 1900, the writer explains, that Pierre du Pont, of the illustrious du Pont family of Delaware, concerned with street railways and real estate, wanted a secretary. Raskob asked for $1,000 a year and got the job. Two years later, when Pierre went back into his ancestral firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Raskob went with him as assistant treasurer at a salary of $3,000.

"Raskob became treasurer when Pierre was made president in 1915," writes Doherty. "Later he was promoted to vice-president in charge of finance. His salary kept pace with him, and he invested all he could in the common stock of General Motors. He persuaded his chief to do the same."

"The present du Pont investment in General Motors is valued at $119,774,640," continues the writer. "Raskob, made chairman of the finance committee, organized the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, which has a stupendous capital. Today he is able to put $1,000,000 in the bank for each of his twelve children, not only to give them a start in life but also to teach them thrift."

CAREFUL DRIVING NEAR SCHOOLS

THE state highway department each week receives requests from one or more towns asking permission to erect signs which will compel all vehicles to stop at crossings near schools located on trunk highways.

The state law requires drivers to slow down when passing schools during recess and the hours when children are coming or going to school. This applies at all schools and on all roads, whether there are any signs or not.

Frank Blackburn Writes Entertainingly From Bonita Springs on April 19th

Are Vegetarians, Use no Seasoning, Believe Their Leader is Christ Himself

Frank Blackburn, now at Bonita Springs, Florida, in a letter dated April 19 writes of a strange religious colony he visited whose leader is believed by the colony to be Christ himself.

His letter to his brother, Thomas T. Blackburn, Brainerd follows:

"Well, again I am in a different place. This, Bonita Springs, is about 175 miles south of Tampa, and is the prettiest place I have struck so far in Florida. Arrived yesterday and will stay over tomorrow. Travelling is educational and most interesting. Night before last I had one of the queerest experiences of my life. This is how it happened."

I was driving along the road when I saw a sign at a side road which read "Brother Isaiah's Camp." There were several large buildings about one half mile to my right so drove over looking for saw filing. A be-whiskered and be-haired man greeted me and requested what I wanted. So on there gathered a dozen or more individuals of the same description who came to investigate my presence. It proved to be a religious sect of some kind but the only one of them who could file a saw was 84 years old so they allowed me to sharpen four saws, three of which I finished before supper. I accepted the invitation to supper and was very greatly surprised when I saw the arrangement of the dining room. The food which consisted of potatoes, cabbage, beans, greens was placed on a large table in the center of the room and was served in cafeteria style. There was no meat of any kind and they made coffee by boiling ground peanuts. It proved to be a very good meal but since no

DAIRY products valued at 640 millions were sold through co-operative associations in 1927, according to a report from the division of co-operative marketing of the United States Department of Agriculture. Measured by the value of these products, New York placed first as a state, Minnesota second, Wisconsin third, Massachusetts fourth, and Iowa fifth.

Minnesota led all states in the co-operative making and marketing of butter. Wisconsin was second, Iowa third, and California fourth. Wisconsin's cheese co-operatives were first and Oregon's second. New York, of course, was first in the marketing of fluid milk.

Heavy gains in the volume of business handled were made during the year by the creameries, the milk-bargaining associations and the milk-distributing associations. One group of creameries in the Minnesota-Wisconsin dairy section reported sales for 1927 more than six millions larger than for 1926.

Seventy-five per cent of the creameries and 74 per cent of the cheese factories in Minnesota in 1927 were co-operative enterprises. Approximately 70 per cent of the creamery butter made in the state is produced in co-operative plants, which number 663 as compared with 885, the total number of creameries in the state.

STARTED AT $7.50 A WEEK

JOHN J. RASKOB, chairman of the finance committee of General Motors and one of America's leading financiers today, was earning $7.50 a week, twenty-eight years ago, as a stenographer in an up-State New York town, according to Edward Doherty in an article in this week's issue of Liberty Magazine.

Raskob had heard from a friend in 1900, the writer explains, that Pierre du Pont, of the illustrious du Pont family of Delaware, concerned with street railways and real estate, wanted a secretary. Raskob asked for $1,000 a year and got the job. Two years later, when Pierre went back into his ancestral firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Raskob went with him as assistant treasurer at a salary of $3,000.

"Raskob became treasurer when Pierre was made president in 1915," writes Dougherty. "Later he was promoted to vice-president in charge of finance. His salary kept pace with him, and he invested all he could in the common stock of General Motors. He persuaded his chief to do the same."

"The present du Pont investment in General Motors is valued at $119,774,640," continues the writer. "Raskob, made chairman of the finance committee, organized the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, which has a stupendous capital. Today he is able to put $1,000,000 in the bank for each of his twelve children, not only to give them a start in life but also to teach them thrift."

CAREFUL DRIVING NEAR SCHOOLS

THE state highway department each week receives requests from one or more towns asking permission to erect signs which will compel all vehicles to stop at crossings near schools located on trunk highways.

The state law requires drivers to slow down when passing schools during recess and the hours when children are coming or going to school. This applies at all schools and on all roads, whether there are any signs or not.

VISITS RELIGIOUS
SECT IN FLORIDA

Frank Blackburn Writes Entertainingly From Bonita Springs on April 19th

Are Vegetarians, Use no Seasoning, Believe Their Leader is Christ Himself

Frank Blackburn, now at Bonita Springs, Florida, in a letter dated April 19 writes of a strange religious colony he visited whose leader is believed by the colony to be Christ himself.

His letter to his brother, Thomas T. Blackburn, Brainerd follows: "Well, again I am in a different place. This, Bonita Springs, is about 175 miles south of Tampa, and is the prettiest place I have struck so far in Florida. Arrived yesterday and will stay over tomorrow. Travelling is educational and most interesting. Night before last I had one of the queerest experiences of my life. This is how it happened: I was driving along the road when I saw a sign at a side road which read 'Brother Isaiah's Camp'. There were several large buildings about one half mile to my right so drove over looking for saw filing. A be-whiskered and be-haired man greeted me and requested what I wanted. Soch there gathered a dozen or more individuals of the same description who came to investigate my presence. It proved to be a religious sect of some kind but the only one of them who could file a saw was 84 years old so they allowed me to sharpen four saws, three of which I finished before supper. I accepted the invitation to supper and was very greatly surprised when I saw the arrangement of the dining room. The food which consisted of potatoes, cabbage, beans, greens was placed on a large table in the center of the room and was served in cafeteria style. There was no meat of any kind and they made coffee by boiling ground peanuts. It proved to be a very good meal but since no seasoning was used the food tasted somewhat flat.

"After supper they had a meeting in the dining hall and 'David', a man with snow white whiskers and long hair, (he claims he is the original David of the time of Christ, having been born a full grown man and claiming perpetual life), conducted the meeting and permitted one man to read the news from a Ft. Meyers newspaper.

"There were about a dozen men and four women and it was explained to me that they did not believe in marriage. David spoke again and told of an invalid girl he had cured by faith.

"I remained at the village that evening and the next morning ate breakfast there and filed the fourth saw. One of the members told me while I was working that he was Christ and to prove it he showed me the scars on the back of each hand where he claimed the spikes were driven through when he was crucified. He said he also had scars on his feet but he did not show them to me. Now can you beat that? Filing a saw for 'Christ' and listening to David."

BOSTON BRAVES HAVE HARD TIME GETTING UNDER WAY

PROMISING SHOWING AT START FADES

NOW MAKING GAME FIGHT AFTER FACING WORST RUN OF LUCK

ROGERS HORNSBY HAS FLU, FIVE OTHER REGULARS HAVE BAD COLDS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, April 27.—The unfortunate Boston Braves are having a tough time getting started in the National League pennant race.

Starting the season with a promising looking outfit, the Braves today occupied the National League cellar with three victories and five defeats, but there is a reason.

The Braves are making a game fight in the face of the worst run of luck suffered by any major league club this spring. Not only is Rogers Hornsby laid up in bed with influenza, but five other regulars have severe colds and are in no physical shape to play winning baseball.

Considering the Braves' plight, Manager Jack Slattery is lucky to place nine men on the field much less win a ball game.

Nevertheless, it was this badly riddled Boston tribe which kept the Brooklyn Robins from ascending to first place in the National League yesterday. With Hornsby and Burris out of the game, the Braves beat Dazzy Vance, 4 to 0, largely through the superb pitching of Ed Brandt, who did not allow a hit until the seventh inning.

The Braves' first bad break came when Jack Slattery was called away from the team by a death in his family. Nothing has happened to help the Braves since.

Lance Richbourg, capable right fielder, was forced to get up from his sick bed yesterday to take his place in the game. Eddie Brown was called in from center field to play first base in place of Burris. Jack Smith is out of action with a sprained ankle and John McNamara, utility outfielder, had to go to center field.

Three of the Braves' pitching stars, Wertz, Grenfield and Bob Smith, are suffering from severe colds and may not be able to work again for several days.

The biggest blow to the team, however, is Hornsby's absence. Hornsby had just begun to find himself when he was forced to bed. His batting average for seven games is .393 and the Braves will miss his heavy hitting.

The goal of today's lap will be East St. Louis, 33 miles away.

Peter Gavuzzi won yesterday's 45.6-mile run from Sullivan in 5:11:11, and increased his elapsed time lead over Andrew Payne, the Oklahoma youth, who came in 4th.

MIKE GOODMAN INJURES SPINE

CANADIAN OLYMPIC ICE-SKATING CHAMPION IN SERIES SHAPE

Los Angeles, April 27.—(UP)—Mike Goodman, Canadian Olympic ice-skating champion and internationally known hockey player, was injured seriously about the spine in a collision during a game between the Minneapolis Millers and the Hollywood millionaires, here last night.

Goodman was taken to a hospital where physicians said he probably never again would be able to play hockey.

Goodman was a member of the Winnipeg Falcons when that team won the 1920 Olympic championship.

Goodman was injured when he and Joe Headley of the Millionaires crashed.

EXCITING MATCH AT PINE RIVER

WITH FALL APIECE TO THEIR CREDIT, TAYLOR HURLS BETH FROM RING

Reports from Pine River indicate the wrestling match between Jack Taylor and Big Bill Beth last night was an exciting affair. With the score a fall each, Taylor in the third round, is said to have taken umbrage at the Pequot man, picked him up bodily with a crotch hold, and slammed him on the floor outside of the mat.

The referee then awarded the bout to Beth. Wrestling of both in the first two falls was of the strenuous kind. Slamming each other about, the two heavyweights broke a six-inch plank that supported a section of the wrestling mat.

34TH ANNUAL PENNSYLVANIA RELAY CARNIVAL

MOST IMPORTANT TRACK AND FIELD EVENT OF THE YEAR

MORE THAN 3,000 ATHLETES TO ENGAGE IN COMPETITION

Philadelphia, April 27.—(UP)—The 34th annual Pennsylvania relay carnival, the most important track and field event of the year, is to get under way at Franklin Field here today with more than 3,000 athletes from all sections of the country in competition.

Decathlon entries occupy the program for the opening day, and among those to compete are Barney Berlinger, Penn freshman star; Tom Churchill of Oklahoma, winner at the Kansas relays last week; Lloyd Kennedy of central Missouri; Virgil Elliott, Bethany, winner of the event here last year; Dan Kinsey, of Chicago, the Olympic hurdle champion; and a host of others who will make a bid for Olympic positions in the decathlon.

The meet will open with tryouts in five of the Olympic decathlon events; the 100 metres, broad jump, putting the weight, high jump and 400 metres.

DRAKE RELAYS OPEN TODAY

Des Moines, Ia., April 27.—The nineteenth annual Drake relays opened here today with nearly 2,500 athletes, representing every college and university in the western and Missouri valley conferences, scheduled to compete in the two-day program.

Candidates for the American Olympic track and field team probably will be selected from winners of the events.

The university relays held the greatest interest. In the mile race, the outstanding one of the entire program, Iowa, Northwestern, Nebraska, Indiana and Texas Aggies were favorites.

The two-mile relay finds Missouri and Iowa State matched closely. Illinois was favored in the four-mile relay, and Oklahoma and Illinois in the medley. Kansas appeared strongest in the quarter mile.

In the individual events, the 100-yard dash will be followed closely because of the appearance of Jack Elder, Notre Dame flash, who is regarded as a certain Olympic choice.

Today's program will be composed chiefly of preliminary and interscholastic events. In the latter, 146 high schools from all over the middle-west will compete.

The athletic carnival will be preceded by a spring festival, held this year for the first time in connection with the relays.

RUSSELL CO. 13, EXPRESS CO. 8

ERRATIC FIELDING RESPONSIBLE FOR DEFEAT OF LEAGUE LEADERS

The Russell Creamery Co. upset the dope last night and defeated the American Railway Express Co. 13 to 8. The Express Co. out-hit the winners 16 to 7 but erratic fielding in the first two innings was largely responsible for their defeat. In the first inning the Creamery men scored eight runs on two hits and seven errors, while the Express Co. counted but once.

The winners put four more runs across in the second on four hits and an error. The Express Co. scored once in this inning. In the third inning the Express Co. scored five runs on two doubles, an error, a single, and a home run by Welsh. In this inning the winners were retired in one, two, three order. In the fourth inning the Russell Creamery scored one run and the Express men also put one across the plate. This ended the scoring for the rest of the game.

Tonight the O'Brien Mercantile Co. will play the Nash-Finch Co.

Excelled in Chess

Dr. Emanuel Lasker held the world's chess championship for 26 years. He was defeated in a memorable contest held in Havana, from which Capablanca, the Cuban marvel, emerged triumphant. Lasker's predecessor, William Steinitz, was the first chess player to use the title of "champion of the world" and to be recognized as such for nearly three decades. He defended the title against all comers from 1893 to 1904.

MINNESOTA'S "BIG LEAGUE" BALL SEASON

ST. PAUL CLUB TAKES ON THE FAST LOUISVILLE COLONELS

St. Paul, April 27.—(UP)—Minnesota's "big league" baseball season opens today in the Twin Cities with the Minneapolis Millers crossing bats with Indianapolis while the St. Paul club writes finish to winter here by taking on the Louisville Colonels.

The arrival of the teams calls for extensive activity of fans in both cities. A parade from the club house through the loop streets and to the playing field will introduce the 1928 edition of the Millers to the general public. A similar program will inaugurate the season here.

Both teams arrived at their home cities Thursday with one first-string player out of the injuries. Frank Emmer, Minneapolis shortstop, will not appear in the Miller lineup on account of injuries suffered last week while Paul Zaneheiser, St. Paul pitching ace, is suffering from a cold which will keep him out of the game for two weeks or more.

The rival teams arrive to perform before their rabid supporters widely separated in the standing's column. St. Paul occupies third place with eight games won and five lost while

Yesterday's Hero—Ed Brandt, Boston Braves 23-year-old rookie from Seattle, who set the Brooklyn Robins down with two hits to beat them 4 to 0.

Only the Braves' victory, over the Robins prevented the Giants, who succumbed to the Phillies 5 to 4, from losing their lead in the National League to Brooklyn.

John P. Quinn, Philadelphia Athletics hurler, pitched his team to a 10

to 0 win over the Washington Senators, enabling Connie Mack's club to move into third place in the American league.

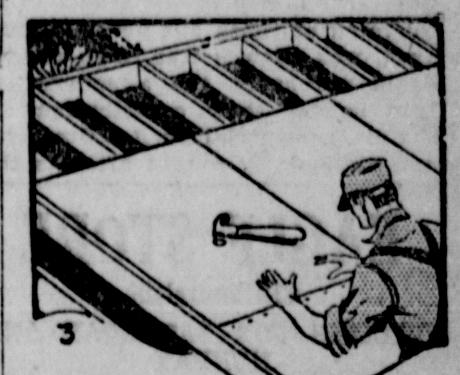

The pitching of Carmen Hill and the batting of the Waner brothers, carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The Waners made five hits, scored four runs and drove in two more.

An eighth inning rally enabled the Yankees to beat the Boston Red Sox 9 to 4. Bob Meusel drove in four runs, bringing his total for the season to 16.

Holding the Tigers to seven scattered hits, George Grant pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 6 to 1 win.

Home runs by Blue and Schulte off Ted Lyons, White Sox pitching ace, featured the St. Louis Browns 6 to 5 victory.

Cold weather prevented the Cardinals-Cubs game at Chicago.

BOSTON BRAVES HAVE HARD TIME GETTING UNDER WAY

PROMISING SHOWING AT START FADES

NOW MAKING GAME FIGHT AFTER FACING WORST RUN OF LUCK

ROGERS HORNSBY HAS FLU, FIVE OTHER REGULARS HAVE BAD COLDS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, April 27.—The unfortunate Boston Braves are having a tough time getting started in the National League pennant race.

Starting the season with a promising looking outfit, the Braves today occupied the National League cellar with three victories and five defeats, but there is a reason.

The Braves are making a game fight in the face of the worst run of luck suffered by any major league club this spring. Not only is Rogers Hornsby laid up in bed with influenza, but five other regulars have severe colds and are in no physical shape to play winning baseball.

Considering the Braves' plight, Manager Jack Slattery is lucky to place nine men on the field much less win a ball game.

Nevertheless, it was this badly riddled Boston tribe which kept the Brooklyn Robins from ascending to first place in the National League yesterday. With Hornsby and Burroughs out of the game, the Braves beat Dazzy Vance, 4 to 0, largely through the superb pitching of Ed Brandt, who did not allow a hit until the seventh inning.

The Braves' first bad break came when Jack Slattery was called away from the team by a death in his family. Nothing has happened to help the Braves since.

Lance Richbourg, capable right fielder, was forced to get up from his sick bed yesterday to take his place in the game. Eddie Brown was called in from center field to play first base in place of Burrus. Jack Smith is out of action with a sprained ankle and John McNamara, utility outfielder, had to go to center field.

Three of the Braves' pitching stars, Wertz, Greenfield and Bob Smith, are suffering from severe colds and may not be able to work again for several days.

PLYE CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS ENTER ILLINOIS

IS EIGHTH STATE SINCE THEY LEFT LOS ANGELES ON MARCH 4

GOAL OF TODAY'S LAP IS EAST ST. LOUIS, 33-MILE DAY'S RUN

Hillside View, Mo., April 27.—(UP)—The Pyle cross-country runners will enter Illinois today, the eighth state since they left Los Angeles on March 4.

The goal of today's lap will be East St. Louis, 33 miles away.

Peter Gavuzzi won yesterday's 45.6-mile run from Sullivan in 6:11:11, and increased his elapsed time lead over Andrew Payne, the Oklahoma youth, who came in 4th.

Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., negro, who has been advancing steadily in the elapsed time standings, was second in 6:22:11, and John Salo, Finn of Passaic, N. J., third in 7:07:42.

MIKE GOODMAN INJURES SPINE

CANADIAN OLYMPIC ICE-SKATING CHAMPION IN SERIOUS SHAPE

Los Angeles, April 27.—(UP)—Mike Goodman, Canadian Olympic ice-skating champion and internationally known hockey player, was injured seriously about the spine in a collision during a game between the Minneapolis Millers and the Hollywood millionaires, here last night.

Goodman was taken to a hospital where physicians said he probably never again would be able to play hockey.

Goodman was a member of the Winnipeg Falcons when that team won the 1920 Olympic championship.

Goodman was injured when he and Joe Headley of the Millionaires crashed.

EXCITING MATCH AT PINE RIVER

WITH FALL APIECE TO THEIR CREDIT, TAYLOR HURLS BETH FROM RING

Reports from Pine River indicate the wrestling match between Jack Taylor and Big Bill Beth last night was an exciting affair. With the score a fall each, Taylor in the third round, is said to have taken unbraced at the Pequot man, picked him up bodily with a crotch hold, and slammed him on the floor outside of the mat.

The referee then awarded the bout to Beth. Wrestling of both in the first two falls was of the strenuous kind. Slamming each other about, the two heavyweights broke a six-inch plank that supported a section of the wrestling mat.

Fish Supplies Medicine

Insulin, the specific in that dread disease, diabetes, is now being obtained from the angler fish. The angler, or "fishing frog," tempts its prey by means of a long spine proceeding from the top of its head, and baited, like a fishing rod with a blob of meaty matter dangling at its top. —Exchange.

34TH ANNUAL PENNSYLVANIA RELAY CARNIVAL

MOST IMPORTANT TRACK AND FIELD EVENT OF THE YEAR

MORE THAN 3,000 ATHLETES TO ENGAGE IN COMPETITION

Philadelphia, April 27.—(UP)—The 34th annual Pennsylvania relay carnival, the most important track and field event of the year, is to get under way at Franklin Field here today with more than 3,000 athletes from all sections of the country in competition.

Decathlon entries occupy the program for the opening day, and among those to compete are Barney Berlinger, Penn freshman star; Tom Churchill of Oklahoma, winner at the Kansas relays last week; Lloyd Kennedy of central Missouri; Virgil Elliott, Bethany, winner of the event here last year; Dan Kinsey, of Chicago, the Olympic hurdle champion and a host of others who will make a bid for Olympic positions in the decathlon.

The meet will open with tryouts in five of the Olympic decathlon events; the 100 metres, broad jump, putting the weight, high jump and 400 metres.

DRAKE RELAYS OPEN TODAY

Des Moines, Ia., April 27.—The nineteenth annual Drake relays opened here today with nearly 2,500 athletes, representing every college and university in the western and Missouri valley conferences, scheduled to compete in the two-day program.

Candidates for the American Olympic track and field team probably will be selected from winners of the events.

The university relays held the greatest interest. In the mile race, the outstanding one of the entire program, Iowa, Northwestern, Nebraska, Indiana and Texas Aggies were favorites.

The two-mile relay finds Missouri and Iowa State matched closely. Illinois was favored in the four-mile relay, and Oklahoma and Illinois in the medley. Kansas appeared strongest in the quarter mile.

In the individual events, the 100-yard dash will be followed closely because of the appearance of Jack Elder, Notre Dame flash, who is regarded as a certain Olympic choice.

Today's program will be composed chiefly of preliminary and interscholastic events. In the latter, 146 high schools from all over the middle-west will compete.

The athletic carnival will be preceded by a spring festival, held this year for the first time in connection with the relays.

RUSSELL CO. 13, EXPRESS CO. 8

ERRATIC FIELDING RESPONSIBLE FOR DEFEAT OF LEAGUE LEADERS

The Russell Creamery Co. upset the dope last night and defeated the American Railway Express Co. 13 to 8. The Express Co. out-hit the winners 19 to 7 but erratic fielding in the first two innings was largely responsible for their defeat. In the first inning the Creamery men scored eight runs on two hits and seven errors, while the Express Co. counted but once.

The winners put four more runs across in the second on four hits and an error. The Express Co. scored once in this inning. In the third inning the Express Co. scored five runs on two doubles, an error, a single, and a home run by Welsh. In this inning the winners were retired in one, two, three order. In the fourth inning the Russell Creamery scored one run and the Express men also put one across the plate. This ended the scoring for the rest of the game.

Tonight the O'Brien Mercantile Co. will play the Nash-Finch Co.

Excelled in Chess

Dr. Emanuel Lasker held the world's chess championship for 26 years. He was defeated in a memorable contest held in Havana, from which Capablanca, the Cuban marvel, emerged triumphant. Lasker's predecessor, William Steinitz, was the first chess player to use the title of "champion of the world" and to be recognized as such for nearly three decades. He defended the title against all comers from 1890 to 1894.

MINNESOTA'S "BIG LEAGUE" BALL SEASON

OPENS TODAY IN TWIN CITIES. MILLERS MEET INDIANAPOLIS

ST. PAUL CLUB TAKES ON THE FAST LOUISVILLE COLONELS

St. Paul, April 27.—(UP)—Minnesota's "big league" baseball season opens today in the Twin Cities with the Minneapolis Millers crossing bats with Indianapolis while the St. Paul club writes finish to winter here by taking on the Louisville Colonels.

The arrival of the teams calls for extensive activity of fans in both cities. A parade from the club house through the loop streets and to the playing field will introduce the 1928 edition of the Millers to the general public. A similar program will inaugurate the season here.

Both teams arrived at their home cities Thursday with one first-string player out of the injuries. Frank Emmer, Minneapolis shortstop, will not appear in the Miller lineup on account of injuries suffered last week while Paul Zanneker, St. Paul pitching ace, is suffering from a cold which will keep him out of the game for two weeks or more.

The rival teams arrive to perform before their rabid supporters widely separated in the standing column. St. Paul occupies third place with eight games won and five lost while the Millers have lost eight and won five. Capacity crowds are expected at both the St. Paul and Minneapolis parks.

WHAT OUTSTANDING STARS DID YESTERDAY

(By United Press)

Lou Gehrig—Got a single and a double in three trips to the plate, bringing in two runs. He accounted for another Yankee run.

Babe Ruth—Failed to connect safely once, but his sacrifice fly in the eighth inning of the game with the Red Sox brought in one run.

Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb—Each hit triples with the bases full, featuring the 10 to 0 defeat of the Senators.

Rogers Hornsby—Was confined to his bed with an attack of influenza. Kiki Cuyler—Was idle when cold weather forced postponement of the Cubs-Cardinals game.

Harry Heilmann—Failed to hit once in five times at bat.

P. Waner—Got a double and two singles in five trips to the plate.

Watching the Scoreboard

By United Press

Yesterday's Hero—Ed Brandt, Boston Braves 23-year-old rookie from Seattle, who set the Brooklyn Robins down with two hits to beat them 4 to 0.

Only the Braves' victory, over the Robins prevented the Giants, who succumbed to the Phillies 5 to 4, from losing their lead in the National league to Brooklyn.

John P. Quinn, Philadelphia Athletics hurler, pitched his team to a 10

to 0 win over the Washington Senators, enabling Connie Mack's club to move into third place in the American league.

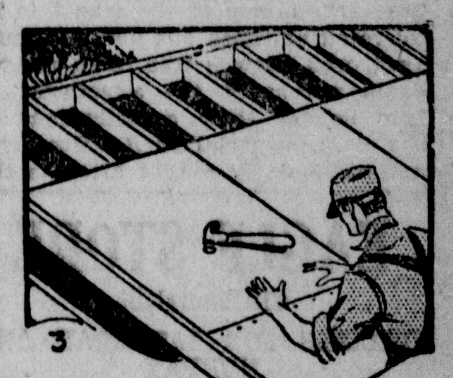

The pitching of Carmen Hill and the batting of the Waner brothers, carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The Waners made five hits, scored four runs and drove in two more.

An eighth inning rally enabled the Yankees to beat the Boston Red Sox 9 to 4. Bob Meusel drove in four runs, bringing his total for the season to 16.

Holding the Tigers to seven scattered hits, George Grant pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 6 to 1 win.

Home runs by Blue and Schulte off Ted Lyons, White Sox pitching ace, featured the St. Louis Browns 6 to 5 victory.

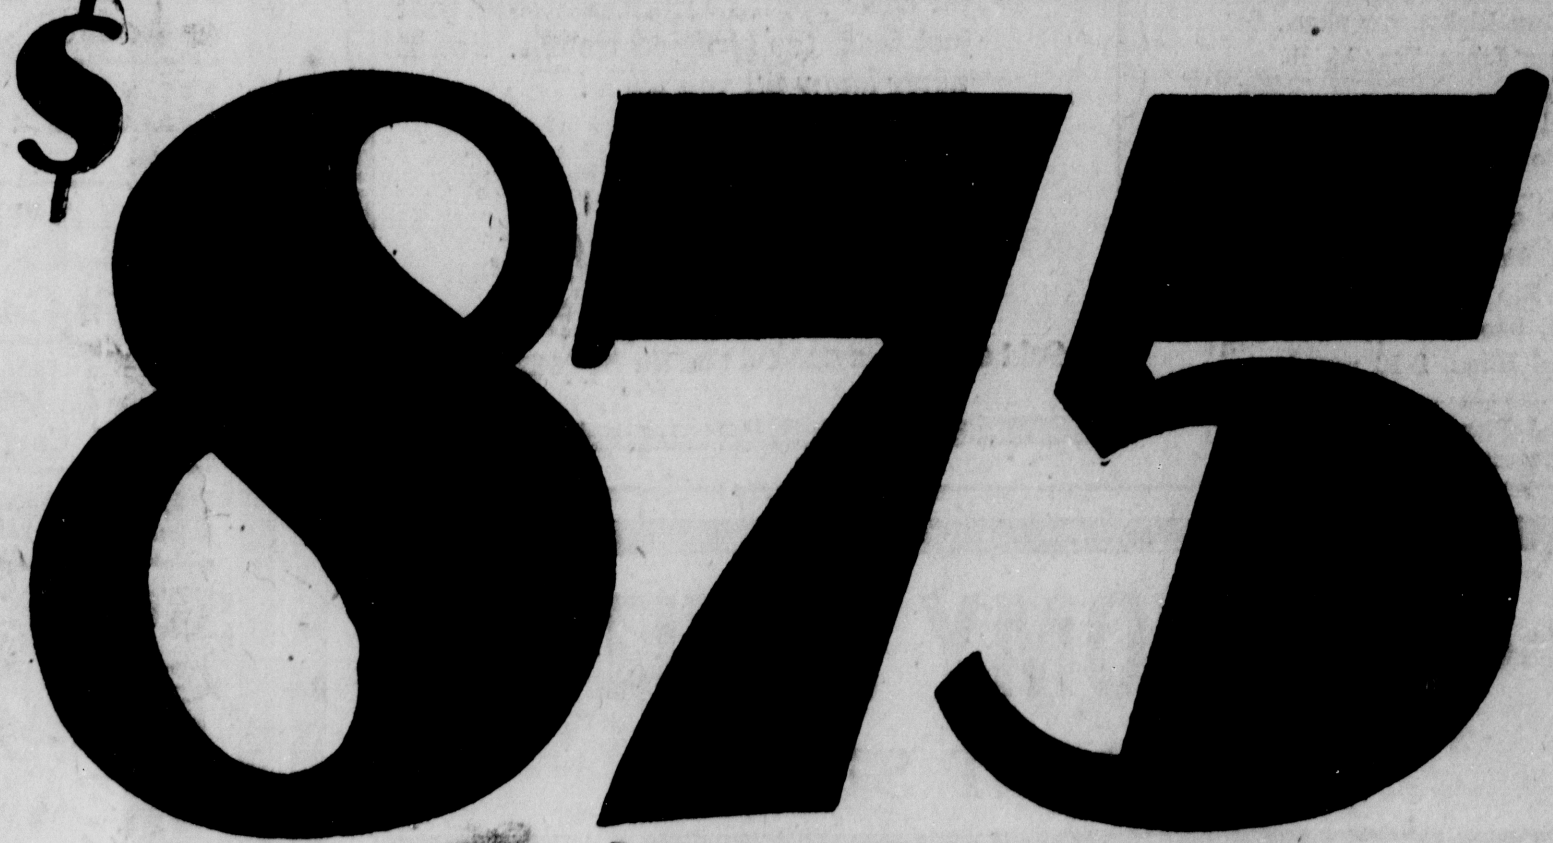

Cold weather prevented the Cardinals-Cubs game at Chicago.

Makes Visit in Winter

The tree sparrow visits the United States only during the winter, says
Nature Magazine. He raises his family of four or five babies in a half-lined grass nest placed in a low bush or on the ground in the north country of Canada.

Natural History Fact

An enormous amount of money has been spent in fighting the dreaded grouse disease, yet one intelligent gamekeeper proved that if a pair of pigeons and a few sparrow-hawks were allowed to nest and live in peace
on the estate, this disease disappeared.
The reason is obvious. The weakly
birds are killed, for they fall an easy
prey to their enemies, while the remaining stock become stronger and better in every way.—London Tit-Bits.

Denotes Authority

The mace was a weapon of war in Europe as late as the Sixteenth century, having been used chiefly by cavalry. It is still used in one form or another by savage tribes. In England its use is continued as an emblem of authority of certain officers
of state, before whom it is carried.

Useless Baggage

The trouble with many people, says
a great scientist is that they spend too much time "packing trunks" they cannot take with them and that would contain few useful things if they did.
—American Magazine.

World's Oyster Crop

The oyster crop of the world
amounts to 22,000,000 bushels, and is valued at $20,000,000. Of this output
the United States produces 79 per cent in quantity and 63 per cent of the value.

Old Magazine

Codey's magazine was published under various titles from 1830 to 1898
in Philadelphia. From 1830-39 it was known as the Lady's Book; 1840-43,
Codey's Lady's Book; 1844-48, Codey's
Magazine and Lady's Book; 1848-52,
Codey's Lady's Book, and from 1892, Codey's Magazine. It was purchased by F. A. Munsey and merged in the Puritan, October, 1898.

Territory Made American

On February 2, 1848, the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was signed by the United States and Mexico. By the terms of this treaty Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California were ceded to the United States on payment of $15,000,000.

Ought to Get More

It was the late lamented Josh Billings, the humorist, who declared: "I have figured onto it and find that civilization costs about 90 cents on the dollar."

Old Maryland Mansion

Cross Manor, south of St. Marys
City, is said to be the oldest house in the state. It was built in 1644.

Hay Foot, Straw Foot

The explanation given for the meaning of the expressions hay foot, straw foot, is that at one time certain military recruits did not know their right foot from their left foot, and that to simplify matters, a wisp of hay was put in one shoe, and one of straw in the other, so that when the drill sergeant instructed the men in their evolutions, it enabled the recruit to remember which was his left and which was his right foot.—Literary Digest.

Natural History Fact

An enormous amount of money has been spent in fighting the dreaded
grouse disease, yet one intelligent gamekeeper proved that if a pair of peregrines and a few sparrow-hawks
were allowed to nest and live in peace
on the estate, this disease disappeared.
The reason is obvious. The weakly
birds are killed, for they fall an easy
prey to their enemies, while the remaining stock become stronger and
better in every way.—London Tit-Bits.

Denotes Authority

The mace was a weapon of war in Europe as late as the Sixteenth century, having been used chiefly by cavalry. It is still used in one form or another by savage tribes. In England its use is continued as an emblem of authority of certain officers
of state, before whom it is carried.

Useless Baggage

The trouble with many people, says
a great scientist is that they spend
too much time "packing trunks" they cannot take with them and that would contain few useful things if they did.

World's Oyster Crop

The oyster crop of the world
amounts to 22,000,000 bushels, and is valued at $20,000,000. Of this output
the United States produces 79 per cent in quantity and 63 per cent of the value.

Old Magazine

Godey's magazine was published
under various titles from 1830 to 1898
in Philadelphia. From 1830-39 it was known as the Lady's Book; 1840-43,
Godey's Lady's Book; 1844-48, Godey's
Magazine and Lady's Book; 1848-52,
Godey's Lady's Book, and from 1892, Godey's Magazine. It was purchased by F. A. Munsey and merged in the Puritan, October, 1898.

Territory Made American

On February 2, 1848, the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was signed by the United States and Mexico. By the terms of this treaty Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California were ceded to the United States on payment of $15,000,000.

Hay Foot, Straw Foot

The explanation given for the meaning of the expressions hay foot, straw
foot, is that at one time certain military recruits did not know their right
foot from their left foot, and that to simplify matters, a wisp of hay was put in one shoe, and one of straw in
the other, so that when the drill sergeant instructed the men in their evolutions, it enabled the recruit to remember which was his left and which
was his right foot.—Literary Digest.

BOARD AGREES ON TWO PROPOSALS

Directs Attorneys to Prepare Necessary Proceedings for Submission to People

BOND ISSUE UNDECIDED

City Attorney to Present Sample Ballots at Next Meeting of Board, Tuesday

Some progress was made at the meeting of the school board last night in regard to the school building program.

A motion by Mrs. J. A. Thabes and Elmer Forsberg directed the attorneys to prepare necessary proceedings for the submission of the questions to the electors of the Brainerd school district of two school buildings in the district, and the issuance of bonds in the sum of $250,000 to carry out this building program. The motion carried.

Under the program, as outlined in this motion, there would be a combined Junior and Senior high school, with gymnasium and large auditorium, on the so-called "fill site," or Block 82, which building would cost, including cost of site and equipment, a sum not to exceed $400,000, and that a combined Junior high school and grade school be erected on the Washington school site, or Block 155, which building equipped would cost $225,000.

The second proposition submitted in the motion provides for the building of a Junior and Senior high school, with gymnasium and large auditorium, on the Washington school site, or Block 155, at a cost, including equipment, not to exceed $400,000, and the building of a Junior high school on Block 82, or the "fill site," at a cost, including the purchase price of the site, not to exceed $225,000.

If this plan were adopted, both propositions would be submitted to the electors for their choice. It also provides that the bonds would be sold to the State of Minnesota and draw interest at the rate of four percent per annum.

There was a further motion relative to this proposition, directing the city attorney to prepare a sample ballot for the submission of these two propositions in as simple a form as can be legally presented to the voters. The city attorney was instructed to present such a ballot at the meeting of the board to be held next Tuesday night. The proceedings providing for the submission to the electors of these two propositions, will also be presented on Tuesday night, as directed by motion of the board.

F. M. Hagberg and George Falconer presented motions which were carried by the vote of 6 to 4, directing the attorneys to prepare the necessary proceedings for the submission to the electors of a proposition providing for a combined Senior and Junior high school to be constructed on Block 82, at a cost not to exceed $450,000 complete, including cost of site and equipment, and the submission of the authority to issue a sum not in excess of $100,000 in bonds to erect such a building, or a second proposition to be voted on at the same time of a combined Senior and Junior high school to be constructed on the Washington school site, or Block 155, at a cost not to exceed $450,000 complete, including equipment, and the question of authority to issue not more than $50,000 in bonds to erect such a high school.

An amendment which was lost was offered to the Hagberg-Falconer motion by Messrs. Forsberg and Crust that a junior high be erected on the opposite site from the one chosen as a high school site, the cost not to exceed $225,000 and a bond issue to be presented for $100,000. The motion was lost by the vote of seven to three.

In connection with this proposition, Mr. Hagberg and Mr. Falconer asked that a legal opinion be submitted at the next board meeting on the question of whether or not building on Block 82 under present conditions would constitute a change of site from Block 155, and for any further information regarding Block 82, which might enlighten the board.

PUBLIC IS INVITED

Free Lecture by Former Alexandria Man Who Saw Attempts at Rescue of S-4

At the Chamber of Commerce rooms tonight, James W. Frazer, formerly of Alexandria, will give a free lecture under Chamber of Commerce auspices on the S-4 submarine tragedy and the efforts made to save the men as they were sealed up in their living tomb over 100 feet below the surface.

Frazer has been a diver for 15 years. He was cited by President Coolidge for his work in the salvaging of the S-51 which sunk near Long Island in 1925.

Frazer addressed the Lions club at Little Falls early this week and men who heard him speak say his talk was of absorbing interest, showing wonderful knowledge of the technical and practical sides of deep sea diving, and giving a land lubber some idea of the difficulties encountered by divers in their work of rescue. He has spoken over WCCO and other radio stations.

Recruiting Officer Keily of Brainerd was instrumental in securing Mr. Frazer for the lecture here tonight.

PIONEER BOYS' CLUB ELECTION

Y. M. C. A. Society Completes Most Successfully First Year of Work

15 in Club, Membership Restricted; Planned to Form More Clubs Next Year

The Pioneer Boys' club of the Y. M. C. A. completed their first year with last night's meeting, having election of officers for the new year. New officers elected were William Johnson, Chief Ranger; I. Pearlman, Deputy Ranger; Robert Jackson, Secretary-Treasurer and Harry Williams, Sergeant-at-Arms. Raymond Lund was appointed organizer for next year.

The work of the Pioneers has been one of the outstanding of the Y. M. C. A. work this year. They are organized in the Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country. Many boys applied to join the Pioneer club of Brainerd this year, but only the limit of fifteen to one club was accepted. It is planned to form more clubs next year. Carl Peterson is the leader of this first club and the boys handled their own organization under his guidance. Adolph Graff was the efficient head of the club for the past year, he is well known among the boys as the policeman's son. Other retiring officers are Ralph Paul, Secretary; Dale Cottingham, Treasurer; and Alfred Erickson, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Peterson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. told the boys at the meeting that it was the most efficient boys' club that he had seen in eight years experience. The good conduct in meetings, nearly perfect attendance, and the fact that they always did with thoroughness anything that they planned, was a pleasing fact. Mr. Peterson stated that he was glad to note that Brainerd ministers had endorsed the work and had felt that the program of the Pioneers was a Christian one and was one of the best for boys.

The Pioneers will have an outdoor picnic, hike and wiener roast Monday evening.

GLORIOUS BETSY

NOVELIZED BY
ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"GLORIOUS BETSY," starring Dolores Costello, is a Warner Bros. picture production of this novel. Based on the play by Rida Johnson Young.

CHAPTER I

The sweet coolness of early dawn lay languorously over the blue shadowed valleys, spreading its fragrance through the fields of ripening corn; making gentle, little rustling sounds among the low-growing, wide-spreading leaves of sweet potato patches outlined like the squares of a crazy quilt on the encircling hills. The dry foliage drank the light dew thirstily and bent over to drop some of the glistening globules onto the dusty underbrush. Field flowers, their chalices closed in sleepy abandon, stirred lazily and then drooped back into stillness.

A red ripple of light ran through the gray-green of a streaked skylark, presaging the heat of another early summer's day. A cock stretched his fat neck and gave forth his matutinal announcement to an otherwise silent world. Unfrightened rabbits began to scurry through the awakening woods. Barnyard fowl clucked from their perches and clambered and pecked industriously. The clear, melodious notes of a robin were taken up by a chorus of bird voices. A bubbling stream re-back and the creaking of the blinds as the negro laboriously rolled up the green slats and pushed open the long windows. Gray light seeped into the room, veiling with the yellow of candle light and throwing into dark relief the decorations on the wall. The deer and elk heads grinned more dolefully than ever. Even the duelling pistols seemed to have lost some of their bravado, and the highly polished swords some of their sharpness.

"Wine—all around, Sam," one of the gentlemen at the table turned to the negro.

"Yes, sah! Right away, sah!"

The aged servant hobbled back to the bar with alacrity.

Without speaking, the man at the end of the table picked up a pack of cards and began to shuffle them. His lean, handsome face appeared haggard in the cruel morning light, and his eyelids dropped heavily. But he continued to arrange the cards and deal them out with a practiced hand. Two of his companions carefully estimated the little piles of gold before them, and then picked up their cards. Silent-lected the first trembling beams of the arising sun and gurgled a welcome.

The green Venetian blinds of the old Sweet Springs Inn were still drawn. Deep shadows of retreat- ing night lurked within the wide porticoes of the upper and lower porches. The great, white pillars that stretched their fat lengths from the ground to the top of the second story of the old Colonial building loomed out of the semi-darkness amid the entwining ramblers rose and chanted their matins to the soft music of falling petals, delicately faded from an over- strong sun. The huge box trees in the garden in front of the pillars took on a depth of color, purple- blue, now, in the fast-changing light.

Within the hotel the silence was as heavy as without, even in the big room that faced out over the gardens. Here the heavy portierres were drawn, but the candles still flickered in their sconces and in the twin candelabras that stood on each end of the massive sideboard of carved oak, lending a soft glow to the ruby Bohemian glass decanters, both empty and full, that littered the top of the piece. Above the buffet hung a brace of duelling pistols and two swords, crossed. Deer heads and trophies of the hunt cast ungainly shadows against the paneled oak walls, almost seeming to smirk and smile in the wavering, smoke-filled air.

In the center of the room stood a long table of carved oak. Its top was freshly stained with wine, and empty glasses, the traces of red sides, gleamed dully. The five men seated about the board in the tall-backed, carved chairs. Long tailed coats of dark green, blue and brown were draped carelessly over the chair backs; stocks with once-fresh lace dropped dispiritedly from perspiring necks; powdered hair had lost its artificial color and artificial curl, and lay damp and hot on shining foreheads. A candle sputtered and retired into dark oblivion.

"Sam! Sam! Where the devil's that boy!" The figure at the end of the long table spoke.

"Yes, sah! Comin', sah!" An aged negro suddenly appeared in the doorway that led from the big room into a long bar. He shuffled across the floor, his white fringe of hair accentuating the darkness of his bald, gleaming head, shining in the candle light.

"Open those windows! 'Gad, it's hot!" The speaker mopped his head with a lace-bordered kerchief.

Once more the room was silent, save for the rattling of the portierres as they were drawn boards before them, and just as silently began to play.

Once more the negro appeared in the doorway of the bar, this time his tray of glasses balanced steadily in one hand. He halted in front of the sideboard and set down his burden. Removing the stopper from one of the bottles, he poured out a deep red potion into each glass. The wine settled lethargically. Then he picked up his tray and moved towards the man at the table. At last the man at the end of the table pushed the last remnant of his gold towards the center and leaned back in his chair.

"Get away from here, you black ape," George Preston growled warily to the servant. "My luck's bad enough as it is!" He drained his glass and set it down again, his long fingers trailing lethargically over the wine-stained board.

"Yes, sah! Massa Preston, yes, sah!" the negro backed away, grinning, his toothless gums in full display.

Preston yawned sleepily and stared at the board in front of him, bare, save for his scattered cards and his empty glasses. He leaned his head on his hand, resting, his elbow on the table, and looked out over the garden. The sky was becoming more and more streaked with red. He looked up again and saw Sam still standing behind him. "I told you to get out of here!" He stared at the negro with bleary eyes. "Quick!" He turned suddenly, seized his glass and lunged it at the servant.

Sam ducked with alacrity and went shuffling off, still grinning and numbing to himself. The other men looked up at the sound of the shattered glass, but otherwise took no notice of the action.

The crash, however, brought one person to attention—an early morning stroller, passing along the portico. The man stopped by the open window and peered in. His plain knee breeches of black stuff, his black coat, severely cut and rising to a black velvet collar high about his neck; his heavy black silk stock—all made him seem a part of the shadows that had not yet cleared away from the porch. His dark hair, unpowdered and severely dressed, only added a pallor to his olive tinged face, and made him seem like a walking phantom lately emerged from the casement, watching the scene within.

"Wait a minute," Preston was now turning once more to his companions, who were already beginning to take stock of their winnings and arrange the gold in neat piles.

"I'm not through yet. Got one more stake to play," he mumbled.

GLORIOUS BETSY

NOVELIZED BY
ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"GLORIOUS BETSY," starring Dolores Costello, is a Warner Bros. picture production of this novel. Based on the play by Rida Johnson Young.

CHAPTER I

The sweet coolness of early dawn lay languorously over the blue shadowed valleys, spreading its fragrance through the fields of ripening corn; making gentle, little rustling sounds among the low-growing, wide-spreading leaves of sweet potato patches outlined like the squares of a crazy quilt on the encircling hills. The dry foliage drank the light dew thirstily and bent over to drop some of the glistening globules onto the dusty underbrush. Field flowers, their chalice closed in sleepy abandon, stirred lazily and then drooped back into stillness.

A red ripple of light ran through the gray-green of a streaked sky, presaging the heat of another early summer's day. A cock stretched his fat neck and gave forth his matutinal announcement to an otherwise silent world. Unfrightened rabbits began to scurry through the awakening woods. Barnyard fowl clambered from their perches and chuckled and pecked industriously. The clear, melodious notes of a robin were taken up by a chorus of bird voices. A bubbling stream re-back and the creaking of the blinds as the negro laboriously rolled up the green slats and pushed open the long windows. Gray light seeped into the room, vying with the yellow of candle light and throwing into dark relief the decorations on the wall. The deer and elk heads grinned more dolefully than ever. Even the duelling pistols seemed to have lost some of their bravado, and the highly polished awards some of their sharpness.

"Wine! all around, Sam," one of the gentlemen at the table turned to the negro.

"Yes, suh! Right away, suh!" The aged servant hobbled back to the bar with alacrity. Without speaking, the man at the end of the table picked up a pack of cards and began to shuffle them. His lean, handsome face appeared haggard in the cruel morning light, and his eyelids dropped heavily. But he continued to arrange the cards and deal them out with a practiced hand. The green Venetian blinds of the old Sweet Springs Inn were still drawn. Deep shadows of retreat lay night, lurked within the wide porticoes of the upper and lower porches. The great, white pillars that stretched their fat lengths from the ground to the top of the second story of the old Colonial building loomed out of the semi-darkness amid the entwining ramblers roses and chanted their matins to the soft music of falling petals, delicately faded from an over-strong sun. The huge box trees in the garden in front of the pillars took on a depth of color, purple-blue, now, in the fast-changing light.

Within the hotel the silence was as heavy as without, even in the big room that faced out over the gardens. Here the heavy portieres were drawn, but the candles still flickered in their sconces and in the twin candelabras that stood on each end of the massive sideboard of carved oak, lending a soft glow to the ruby Bohemian glass decanters, both empty and full, that littered the top of the piece. Above the buffet hung a brace of duelling pistols and two swords, crossed. Deer heads and trophies of the hunt cast ugly shadows against the paneled oak walls, almost seeming to smirk and emile in the wavering, smoke-filled air.

In the center of the room stood a long table of carved oak. Its top was freshly stained with wine, and empty glasses, the traces of red dregs still clinging stickily to their sides, gleamed in the light. Long tailed coats of dark green, blue and brown were draped carelessly over the chair backs; stocks with once-fresh lace dropped dispiritedly from perspiring necks; powdered hair had lost its artificial color and hot on shining foreheads. A candle sputtered and retired into dark oblivion.

"Sam! Sam! Where the devil's that boy!" The figure at the end of the long table spoke. "Yes, suh! Comin', suh!" An aged negro suddenly appeared in the doorway that led from the big room into a long bar. He shuffled across the floor, his white fringe of hair accentuating the darkness of his bald, gleaming head, shining in the candle light.

"Open those windows! 'Gad, it's hot!" The speaker mopped his head with a lace-bordered kerchief. Once more the room was silent, save for the rattling of the portieres rings as they were drawn boards before them, and just as silently began to play.

Once more the negro appeared in the doorway of the bar, this time his tray of glasses balanced steadily by in one hand. He halted in front of the sideboard and set down his burden. Removing the stopper from one of the bottles, he poured out a deep red potion into each glass. The wine settled lethargically. Then he picked up his tray and moved towards the man at the table. At last the man at the end of the table pushed the last remnant of his gold towards the center and leaned back in his chair.

"Get away from here, you black ape," George Preston growled warily to the servant. "My luck's bad enough as it is!" He drained his glass and set it down again, his long fingers trailing lethargically over the wine-stained board.

"Yes, suh; Massa Preston; yes, suh!" the negro backed away, grinning, his toothless gums in full display. Preston yawned sleepily and stared at the board in front of him, bare, save for his scattered cards and his empty glasses. He leaned his head on his hand, restin', his elbow on the table, and looked out over the garden. The sky was becoming more and more streaked with red. He looked up again and saw Sam still standing behind him. "I told you to get out of here!" He stared at the negro with bleary eyes. "Quick!" He turned suddenly, seized his glass and flung it at the servant.

Sam ducked with alacrity and went shuffling off, still grinning and mumbling to himself. The other men looked up at the sound of the shattered glass, but otherwise took no notice of the action.

The crash, however, brought one person to attention—an early morning stroller, passing along the portico. The man stopped by the open window and peered in. His plain knee breeches of black stuff, his black coat, severely cut and rising to a black velvet collar high about his neck; his heavy black silk stock—all made him seem a part of the shadows that had not yet cleared away from the porch. His dark hair, unpowdered and severely dressed, only added a pallor to his olive-tinted face, and made him seem like a walking phantom lately emerged from the night. He leaned against the casement, watching the scene within.

Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

In Just Five Minutes Those Sore, Tender, Aching Feet Get Amazing Relief

You probably feel like a lot of other people that about all you can do is dust some powder in your shoes or give your feet a special foot bath and let it go at that, but don't be foolish. Make up your mind today that you are going to give your feet a real chance to get well. Go to H. P. Dunn or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil. The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your foot troubles will be a thing of the past. Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but one bottle we know will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered the way to solid foot comfort. Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.
